Assignment submissions in a class can generate an intractable amount of paper. Meanwhile, returning the papers to students during class can be a time-consuming and onerous task. InstaSEE defines the next generation of classroom management software that provides a pragmatic solution to such problems. This purely web based project features instant feedback, tutoring, and grading. Student submissions are saved in a database for years and are available on demand. InstaSEE enables teachers to give feedback quickly and efficiently over email.